KU KLUX ISSUE UPSETS CONVENTION

Matter is Sprung During Speech for Underwood

Mention of Order is Like Firebrand to the Delegates.

PARTY IS SPLIT

About Half Join In Anti-Klan Demonstration, Other Delegations Near Violence Over Matter.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Amid scenes almost without parallel in the party history the democratic national convention began to grapple with the two great issues before it, the nomination of a presidential candidate and determination of the party's attitude toward the Ku Klux Klan. Scarcely had the nominating speeches for president begun when the vast hall was thrown into prolonged demonstration provoked by reference to the positive stand against the Klan taken by Senator Underwood of Alabama.

Mention of the name of the order fell upon the convention like a firebrand. One after another of the state standards were lifted up and carried in the parade around the hall together with American flags snatched from the wall decorations. In several states where sentiment was divided there were fist fights as delegates attempted to prevent the standards going on parade. A number of delegations sat in silent disapproval of the anti-klan demonstration.

By Associated Press.

Madison Square Garden, New York. June 25.—At a meeting an hour earlier than yesterday the democratic national convention perfected a permanent organization today under the guidance of permanent chairman, Thomas J. Walsh, Montana senator who headed the Teapot Dome investigation.

The order of business was amended by the rules committee to provide for the platform committee worked on a declaration of party principles for submission to the convention. The large number of candidates to be placed in nomination caused the convention managers to shorten the time for nominating speeches and limit the number of seconding speeches. Plans are being made to drive the convention ahead full speed as soon as organization preliminaries are disposed of. There is just a possibility that convention managers might agree on making a start on nominating speeches today.

The situation as to candidates showed no change today and the same powerful undercurrents were flowing. There were claims of gains for this candidate and losses for that one but only the first few ballots will reveal the real situation.

Convention managers were somewhat alarmed at the congestion on the floor yesterday and gave orders that none but delegates and alternates by permitted delegate space today. Guards were placed at the entrance to carry out these instructions.

Some of the first evidences of organized demonstration appeared today. McAdoo people passed out printed copies of McAdoo's song which they sing when they are stirring up noise for their candidate. The yellow badge for Underwood made its appearance today also.

Half an hour after meeting time temporary chairman Harrison began pounding for order but the crowds gave little heed and sergeants-at-arms were called upon to assist in clearing the aisles, aided by policemen, coaxing and pushing.

The rules committee provided for the nomination of candidates before the platform committee made its report. Following its adoption, Chairman Walsh quite unexpectedly announced the next order of business would be the presentation of candidates for the presidential nomination. Many of the delegates hoped the convention might recess before taking up this work.

Meanwhile the platform committee was busily engaged in hearing proponents of numerous planks likely to be incorporated in the platform. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, left his sick bed to present labor causes to the committee. He was attended by a trained nurse and made use of his smelling salts during the twenty minute hearing during which he twice addressed the committee.

Owen D. Young, member of the Dawes commission in France, submitted a foreign relations plank which received considerable attention from the committee. Young's plank assails the present policy of the administration and declared corporation or participation in such organization as the League of Nations commendable.

Al Smith in an interview today with newspaper men declared he thought it impossible for the convention to begin balloting earlier than Friday. Delegates from Missouri and other states and the Phillippines have joined his ranks, the New York governor told the press.

Senator Underwood was the first candidate named and he was placed in nomination by the Alabama delegation. There was little interest in the first nominating speech until the speaker reached the subject of the Ku Klux Klan. Once during the address the speaker started a demonstration, about half of the delegates remaining seated. Missouri, Iowa, Texas, Oklahoma and California kept their seats. When the speaker mentioned the Klan by name, another demonstration by the same delegates started. The Missouri standard was grabbed by a delegate from St. Louis against the protest of almost all of the delegates. It was finally replaced, an elderly lady and a two hundred-pound policeman helping to guard it.

In the Colorado delegation another scramble nearly reached the fist fight stage. One delegate was determined it should go in the anti-klan demonstration and another was equally determined it should not. Some clothing was torn, much hair was rumbled, the standard was wrecked and contenders were separated by the police. When things quieted down again it was seen that there had been nearly a dozen fights or near fights in all sections of the hall.

DEMOCRATS ARE PLEASED WITH WALSH SPEECH

Ten Minute Demonstration When Senator Gets Up.

KLAN THREATENS

Permanent Chairman Attacks Administration—Says Republican Party Is Impotent Now.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Pent up fires of democratic enthusiasm fed by rivalries moving beneath the surface found tumultous outlet again today in the big convention hall. This time Senator Walsh, of committee prosecutor, set the convention aflame when he appeared on the platform to deliver his permanent chairman's address.

Delegates snatched their standards and began a howling parade in tribute to Walsh's uncovering of the Teapot Dome scandal. It was ten minutes before the hall quieted again. The demonstration broke out again at the conclusion of his speech which was frequently interrupted with cheers and shouts of approval.

The report of the committee of rules including the two-thirds nominating clause was adopted by the convention without a dissenting vote. Drafting of the platform started this afternoon with prospects of a long session. The committee conceded that the open threat to bring the Ku Klux Klan question before the convention as a whole might complicate their work.

The American people will be on trial before the world in the coming Presidential campaign, Senator Thos. J. Walsh, of Montana, declared in an address upon assuming the permanent chairmanship of the Democratic National Convention.

The issue, he asserted, will be whether they will continue in power the party now in control of the government notwithstanding the scandals which have been disclosed in Senate investigations.

Are Americans Indifferent?

"I can not admit the accusation," Senator Walsh said, "that the American people are indifferent to the corroding influence of corruption in office, high or low. But we shall see. They are on trial.

"If notwithstanding what has transpired the party now in power in the nation is continued in control by the choice of the people of the United States, apparent or real, what judgment must be passed upon them by the world?

"They enjoy the distinction of having erected and maintained a government whose officers are as free from suspicion of venality as those of any nation on earth, and they will not, I venture to predict, forfeit it."

Charging spokesmen of the Republican party with attempts at palliation of the offenses of the "unfaithful public servants," Senator Walsh declared that it is in "this easy tolerance of turpitude in public office that the real peril to free government lies rather than in its casual occurence."

"The President of the United States himself," he continued, "has not hesitated to endeavor to shield the delinquents from the public odium to which their derelictions have subjected them by joining in the hue and cry against the investigations that have been conducted under the authority of the Senate and against that body for authorizing them. His message on the subject had for its plain purpose the suppression of an inquiry into the official conduct of a member of his cabinet."

Senator Walsh said President Coolidge had historic warrant for his attitude, recalling that when the British House of Commons sought to investigate the Duke of Buckingham, Charles would not permit it.

Recalls King Charles

"Charles lost his head," the senator added, "and Calvin Coolidge may profit politically by his example."

Declaring the Republican party to be impotent in the face of "an impending national calamity," Senator Walsh said that because of antagonisms within its ranks it had ceased to be an organization through which the

SHOT BY UNKNOWN MAN LAST NIGHT

Slagtown Woman Believes Attacker Was Negro—Crime Similar to Other Recent Ones.

Mrs. Wade Smith was shot and severely wounded by an unknown marauder at her home in Slagtown at 3 o'clock this morning. The crime is similar, in many respects to the killing of Hiram Honeycutt near there a few months ago, the attempted attack on Mrs. Estridge and other cases of marauding here.

Mrs. Smith says that he awakened her and threatened to kill her. She got out of bed and he pulled her into the kitchen. With his pistol near her face he attempted to shoot her but she dodged and the bullet missed her head and became imbedded in the door of the adjoining room. He fired again, the bullet this time entering her back under the left shoulder.

Mr. Smith who was sleeping in another bed of the same room was aroused by this time. The intruder told him to lie down or he would kill him, then fired at him, the bullet passing harmlessly through the window.

Mrs. Smith was not seriously injured and is still at her home where she received medical attention. Police officers went to the scene of the crime this morning and queried the victim regarding the appearance of the marauder. She described him as being either a dark skinned white man or a yellow negro, of medium build and wearing a white hat. She stated that she had never seen him before. The weapon he used was a small-frame, short-barreled .38 caliber revolver.

The point of the house at which entrance was made is not clear. The only thing left by the intruder which may be a clue was an ice-pick, the ordinary kind used in most homes. This was found lying on the mantel and members of the household claimed it did not belong there. Police are working on a number of theories from the information they have obtained.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 25.—E. L. Doheny, millionaire oil man and former client of William Gibbs McAdoo, today issued the following statement in response to queries as to whether he was helping to finance McAdoo's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination:

"I am leaving the privilege of contributing to Mr. McAdoo's campaign to those who believe in the efforts of a lawyer who deserts his client when he is under attack, after having received substantial retainers for legal services.

"Those who believe that such a course is ethical no doubt believe Mr. McAdoo would make a good President of the United States."

OIL COMPANIES DEFENDANTS IN FEDERAL SUIT

50 Attacked In Anti-Trust Proceedings Today.

INJUNCTION ASKED

Charges Combination to Control Production of Gasoline by Pooling Patent Rights.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Fifty or more of the principal oil companies in the United States are attacked in the anti-trust proceedings instituted by the government today in the federal court at Chicago. Attorney General Stone asked an injunction restraining companies from further violations of the Sherman Act. Nearly all of the important companies, including the Standard companies, were cited.

The attorney general charged them with having combined to control the production of gasoline by pooling the patent rights in violation of the anti-trust act, naming as primary defendants the Standard Oil of Indiana, the New Jersey Standard Development Company, the Gasoline Products Company and the Texas Company. Secondary defendants include the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky and a host of others. Primary defendants are alleged to be seeking "extra huge sums from manufacturers of gasoline in the guise of royalty" for use of unimportant improvements on patents long since expired.

Traveler Struck By Truck Seriously Hurt

Frank Nelson, a middle-aged man walking through the country from Williamsburg to Anchor, accompanied by his wife, was run into this morning by H. T. Hackney Co.'s truck and severely injured. The couple were traveling the road near Columbia Mines, in Mingo Hollow, when the accident occurred. They had set their suitcase in the middle of the road for some reason or other, and, when he saw the truck coming, Nelson ran to pick it up. The truck driver, Howard Dalton, figured that he would go back with the suitcase and kept on coming. Nelson, however, became confused and started on across the road.

The injured man was taken to the Brosheer-Brummett hospital where he is suffering from severe cuts and bruises, though he is not in a serious condition. The wife was taken to the Salvation Army.

NURSE ADMITS SHE MAILED DEAD BABY

Mental Condition of Woman Examined—Case Probably Won't Be Prosecuted.

By Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, June 25.—Federal authorities probably will not prosecute Mrs. Edna Leitch Cottrell, 25, nurse at the Lakewood State Hospital, who confessed to mailing a dead baby's body to her mother in Chicago. Human bodies are not mailable matter but there are no postal regulations providing for penalty for such action, Postmaster Ludlow Petty said today. Superintendent Walter Jillson of the hospital plans an investigation of the nurse's mental condition when she recovers but her condition is serious today. No state law is violated, the superintendent understands, and probably the state authorities will not prosecute the woman.

BRADNER RETURNS FROM CONVENTION

Says Big Kiwanis Meeting in Denver Was Exceptionally Interesting One.

Supt. J. W. Bradner, delegate from the Middlesboro Kiwanis Club to the international convention in Denver, returned yesterday morning, reporting one of the most interesting meetings he ever attended. He said there were about 6,000 persons at the convention, with 975 out of the 1,250 clubs represented. Fifteen hundred delegates were present.

Three men went from Harlan and one from Corbin, were the only ones besides himself from this section. There were about 150 there from the Kentucky-Tennessee District, he said. Chattanooga had a large delegation. St. Paul, Minn., was chosen as the meeting place next year.

Mr. Bradner mentioned a number of interesting program features. The inimitable Jules Brazil had charge of the singing. Wednesday night the city of Denver presented a gorgeous pageant, "The Spirit of the West," representing western life in 1859. The ladies were well cared for, he said. A special feature which he mentioned was the address on "What Is Bolshevism," by a New York journalist. This was an appeal to the Kiwanis Club to teach patriotism and Americanism to the children of today.

Early Scores Discourage Many Who Planned to Enter.

NINE NEAR PAR

Marshall and Tachau Score 41—Gail Alexander Makes Long First Hole In Eagle Four.

BY HOWARD W. HARTLEY
Staff Correspondent, The Associated Press.

An even hundred entries had been recorded by Starter Bobby Craigs at noon today for the fourteenth annual Kentucky State Golf Championship, which entered the qualifying round this morning at the Middlesboro Country Club. More than 200 golfers are here but the complete field is not expected to total more than 125. This is because early scores discouraged many who had planned to enter.

Contrary to predictions several of the cards for the first nine narrowly missed par. John Marshall, the present champion, of Louisville, was one under fours through the fifth and then skidded badly but finished the first nine holes in 41. Chris Brinke, winner of the state title two years ago, was all over the lot on the first three holes but staged a brilliant recovery to finish the nine in 44. Ted Ottman, city champion of Louisville, putting like a fiend, took 42 for the first nine. Frank Fehr, Jr., of Louisville, had great difficulty making his woods behave but struggled through the nine holes in 46.

There were three outstanding features of the morning play. First was the eagle four made by Gail Alexander, of Lexington, on the 658 yard first, a remarkable feat. Marshall scored a birdie five on the same hole and the third sensation was the sinking of a thirty-five foot putt on the ninth green by Fehr, of Louisville.

Lewis Tachau, of Louisville, winner of the Southeastern tournament at Middlesboro last summer, went around the first nine in 41. Most of the early scores, however, were in the mid forties, making it certain that the writer's prediction that 170's would win places in the championship, will hold good.

The entry list at noon was as follows:

D. L. Pendleton, Lexington; W. Dishman, Barbourville; N. A. Archer, Williamsburg; F. P. Scales, Middlesboro; J. M. Bean, J. E. Butler, Danville; Alex Bush, Louisville; C. Hilker, D. L. Van Winkle, J. A PARTY PARADOX

Among the high lights in Senator Pat Harrison's key note speech of yesterday at the New York convention is one that is especially paradoxical when the war record of the G O P is given scrutiny The gentleman from Mississippi said in speaking of the present administration "It might have been able to free itself from the sectional idolatry and to have looked beyond the skies of New England It might have heard the groans of the distressed farmers of the west"

We wonder if the Mississippi politician looked back on the record of the Wilson administration and the manner in which it took cognizance of the "groans" of the western farmer It was this administration that fixed the price of wheat and wool and allowed manufactured products and cotton to go to the war demand level While farming machinery was allowed to sell at unheard of prices, the price of the western and mid-western farmer's products were held to a less than cost production basis Army contracts were let on the cost plus basis and the administration throughout was an orgy of spending in every government channel unknown in the history of nations And then Senator Pat goes on to say regarding what the American people expect "but to them corruption is inexcusable, graft is indefensible"

The Mississippi senator's is a splendid example of a campaign speech that will not stand critical analysis and the western and mid western farmer is a reading, thinking and remembering party not easily carried off his feet by campaign oratory or party literature that will not undergo sunlight inspection

CAN'T SUPRESS THE NEWS

The idea that newspapers are after the facts just to satisfy an idle curiosity is denied and the truth of the matter set forth in a recent editorial in the Hopkinsville New Era An example is made of the explosion on the battleship Mississippi after which the officers refused to give out any information until orders were sent out from Washington requiring that they do so The editorial follows

Even the great and mighty army and navy forces are going to have to come to the point where they can't tell the American public to go to

It has been the custom of these branches for generations to arbitrarily refuse to give out any information to the public

In the case of the blundering off the California coast when 48 men were killed and others wounded, the commander of the Mississippi told the Associated Press he had no news to give out, would not have any list of the dead or dying for some days, and in other words, that it wasn't the public's business what had happened nor whom it had happened to

'Quite soon Washington was reached, and the peremptory 'will back to the commander of the Mississippi to give the information of the tragic blunder to the press

'Just where petty officers of army and navy got the idea that they were above the American people is not explained. Public interest in happenings in every other circle of endeavor is recognized.

"Among the dead and dying of the Mississippi are humans. Most of them are connected by blood ties and friendship to other humans. Some of that great battleship are not killed, and they have those who want to know.

"The newspapers, or the news gathering agency, isn't satisfying an idle curiosity It is serving the great public and it owes that public something that great reading taxpaying public is paying for the dignity the petty officer of the command wears The public at large is supporting him in ambition and authority And when something happens, he would tell that public to go to the bow wows

The intelligent nation that knows how to read and values results, and appreciates the advance methods of gathering news quickly, is going to be served regardless of the petty officers of arms and navy The higher ups know that even behind blundering tragedy it is better to let the people know"

THE POLITICAL HORIZON

One of the liveliest conventions in years is promised if New York Democrats believe they have a good chance to win and a hot fight for the nomination is in prospect

It believes the delegates to take in to account not only their own personal choice of a leader but the nature of the opposition they are facing

The ticket nominated by the Republicans is satisfactory to conservatives being eminently safe and sane, with strong emphasis upon economy and a platform framed along established lines of Coolidge policy Furthermore that ticket is backed by the President of the United State

Political strategy seems to call for a Democratic platform and nominee which shall be markedly progressive And in running against the President it would be an advantage to have a candidate well known to the country

Although the supporters of Governor Smith are making much noise and have the advantage of the support of a friendly press in the New York city, there are few indeed who believe that he can be nominated His wet record kills his chances Mr Bryan expressed the sentiment of the dry forces in the Democratic party when he said that he would not predict who would be nominated but he was sure it would not be Smith or any other wet Mr Bryan says three fourth of the states have dry delegations

McAdoo has a progressive record and has been much in the public eye He enters the convention with the largest number of pledged delegates His managers assert that he will command a majority on the first ballot

This claim of a majority on the first ballot is heavily discounted by most observers, who believe it does not take sufficient account of the votes for favorite sons Yet it is considered probable that McAdoo will secure a majority on the second or third ballot

Will he go on from there to victory The resolute stand taken by his opponents and the difficulty of obtaining 732 votes if a powerful minority is really determined to block a McAdoo nomination have given rise to a good deal of doubt as well as to talk of an attack upon the two thirds rule

Turning to minor candidates, there is no lack of ability in the group but considerable doubt regarding availability

Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, for example is a man whose courage and intellectual integrity command respect from all who are familiar with his political career Unfortunately he is not as well known to the country at large as his work merits

John W Davis of West Virginia and New York has been tagged a Morgan lawyer Perhaps he would be swayed by these recent business associations but when in congress he was a progressive and one of the authors of the Clayton act

Senator Ralston of Indiana is more talked about than any other dark horse having the first qualifications of lacking enemies or salient points of attack save his age He appears hardly a strong enough figure to conduct a vigorous slashing campaign such as the situation confronting the Democrats demands—Ashland Independent

BABSON SAYS BUSINESS WILL SURGE IN FALL

Finds Slowing Up Not Controlled Unusual Factors.

OTHER DEPRESSIONS

Pessimism Now Depends on the Point of View, Noted Statician Says—Is Period of Adjustment.

BABSON PARK, Mass, June 25—Does the recent slowing up of activity mean that business as on the toboggan or will the present lull give way to another boom? The question is uppermost in the minds of the nine out of ten business men and not a few who are not in business for themselves It was put today to Roger W Babson statician and business authority, who has the figures of present activity for every important industry in the country and for practically every trading center

Whether we are having a business depression or not, replied Mr Babson depends a great deal upon your point of view and upon what you mean by depression The Johnstown flood probably would not have impressed Noah, but it was plenty serious enough for those who were involved in it Technically business is below the normal one In some lines the depression is severe, in others but a slight slackening in trade is being felt Perhaps the easiest way to get at the present position of general business is to compare it with the depressions of the past that we have had in opportunity of view in retrospect We look back for instance on 1907 as a panic year—we still carry some of the scars inflicted by the black months of 1920 and 1921 Will we look back in 1924 as a year of serious depression or merely as a year when things were a bit slow?

Slump in 1907

During the year 1907 general business activity fell from a point 16 per cent above normal to 21 per cent below normal a most precipitous decline making a total loss of 40 points in 12 months So far in 1924 general activity is reflected on the Babsonchart has declined from about 4 per cent above normal in January to its present position 11 per cent below normal Commodity prices lost about 21 points in the panic of 1907 and commodity prices today are higher than they were at the first of the year The index of stock market history There is relatively little change between stock prices today and those of January first Money was scarce in 1907 and real panic conditions prevailed We have nothing similar to this situation today nor is there any prospect of such a development at the present time

The difficult years of 1920 and 1921 which stood the brunt of post war readjustment are fresher in our minds In January 1920, general activity was 21 per cent above normal By the spring of 1921 it was running at 25 per cent below normal, a loss of 46 points in about 15 months Our present situation in which we have suffered a loss of approximately 15 points during the first half of this year does not look so serious in comparison There was no money panic in 1920 and 1921 due largely to the operation of the Federal Reserve system, but commodity prices suffered the most drastic decline in history dropping from the high point of 297 to a low point of 130 in less than 12 months Stocks dropped from 93 to 66 and heavy inventory losses forced many reputable concerns into the hands of the banks and too many of them eventually into the hands of the receiver

Slowing Up Slight Now

The present more or less uncertain business weather then can hardly be classed with some of the storms we have experienced during the past few years The most recent figures on industrial activities show that the forty-two leading industries now average about 10 per cent less busy than they were a year ago In spite of this fact we find that fourteen of these classifications are not producing as much or more than they were at this same period in 1923 Bakers products are running about 6 per cent ahead of last year, the beverage business is leading by practically that same margin Brick manufacturing is about 10 per cent ahead of a year ago, cement shows just a 5 per cent increase Women's clothing, jewelry and printing and publishing are running about the same as last year Meat packing is 2 per cent ahead of last year's figures while petroleum products show an 8 per cent gain and piano manufacturing is running 10 per cent ahead of last year

'The slowing up of business has surely not developed panic dimensions As a matter of fact, its own swing which has developed was clearly indicated by fundamental conditions a year ago It is a natural normal completion of the period of adjustment which was interrupted by a sudden

HUNT'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By Harry B Hunt

WASHINGTON, D C June 21—President Coolidge has had to sit hard on rival groups in the Republican camp in order to prevent what might have developed into a disastrous split in his campaign management

That there has been no love lost between C Bascom Slemp secretary to the president, and William M Butler, Coolidge's selection as new chairman of the G O P national committee, has been open gossip for weeks Developments at the Cleveland convention, where Butlers attempts to dictate the vice presidential selection met with rebuff widened rather than closed the breach

Slemp, it has been hinted had rather hoped to be chairman himself, but he quietly when Butler was named As an experienced politician however, he found it hard to remain silent while contemplating what seemed to him exceedingly amateurish moves in Butlers style of game

From the other side of the table came the opinion that it no longer made any difference whether Slemp liked things or not that he was brought into the administration family to line up the southern delegates for Coolidge and that now they had been delivered his hand was played out He couldn't, it was suggested deliver electoral votes Indeed with Democrats ready to revive the old forces of hostilities in raising party funds from post office appointees the campaign might run a lot more smoothly if he would go back to Big Stone Gap Va and run coal mine the Butlers inferred

In this situation Slemp went into executive session with the president What transpired there from comes is a matter between them alone The Johns Adams George B Lockwood wing of the party however smiled broadly when Slemp emerged and announced that the rumor he intended resigning was altogether baseless Nothing to it, whatever, he insisted He would remain as secretary to the president

Also and this was stated with emphasis—he expected to be a member of the advisory board to be set up which would manage the presidential campaign The president, however, later made it plain that his friend Butler would remain first in command

How well Slemp and Butler will get on as members of an advisory board on the conduct of the campaign remains to be seen Butler insists he is glad Slemp stays Slemp rather grimly says he's glad to stay

Butlers efforts to get Borah to make the race with Coolidge were responsible for an entente toward him the latter enmity of the extreme conservatives in the party

Butler wanted first of all a ticket that would win

The others wanted, first of all, a ticket that was safe

They must tell that the ticket is kept clear of western progressivism while Butler held that it takes all kinds of men to make a party and that a man is not necessarily worn just because he happens to disagree with certain other men Fundamentally, he couldn't see why Coolidge and Borah couldn't stand on the same platform

A GOOD LAXATIVE

Black-Draught Recommended by an Illinois Lady, Who Says It Helps Her.—"Fine for the Liver."

St. Elmo, Ill—"I have used Black-Draught for three years," says Mrs J W Boyd, a well known member of this community "I was visiting a friend who had used it for some time I was in need of a laxative and I had a burning in my stomach I was constipated She gave me a dose of Black Draught and it helped me, so I used it from then on It certainly benefited me I think it is fine for the liver, too I am glad to recommend it

"One day our pastor was visiting us, and he said his system seemed clogged and asked me to give him something to take I gave him Black-Draught He was much pleased with the results and bought a package, himself"

Constipation forces the system to absorb poisons that should be thrown out, causing pain, discomfort and tending to undermine your health Black-Draught helps to relieve this condition by acting on the bowels, and by regulating the liver when it is torpid, thus helping to drive out many poisons in an easy natural way

Don't take chances! At the first indication of constipation, take Black-Draught Costs only a cent a dose

You local druggist, or dealer sells Black-Draught. NC-153

WEE HUGHIE
By Elizabeth Shane

He's gone to school, wee Hughie,
An, him not four,
Sure I saw the fright was in him
When he left the door.

But he took 'a' hand o' Denny,
An' a hand o' Dan,
Wi' Joe's owld coat upon him—
Och, the poor wee man!

He cut the quarest figure,
More stout nor thin;
An' trottin' right an' steady
Wi' his toes turned in.

I watched him to the corner
O' the big turf stack,
An' the more his feet went forrit,
Still his head turned back.

He was lookin', would I call him—
Och, my heart was woe —
Sure it's lost I am without him,
But he be to go.

I followed to the turnin'
When they passed it by,
God help him he was cryin',
An', maybe, so was I.

MADAM MABEL

FAMOUS PALMIST AND CLAIRVOYANT.

Sees All—Knows All—Tells All

This lady lately arrived in your town to do good for the public by her wonderful powers of reading the history of one's life by examing the hand. She tells the past, present and future, also gives advice on all affairs of life, such as love affairs, business matters, family affairs, wills and divorces and most everything pertaining to the welfare of one's life. The bible speaks in many places of the power of the palmist to predict the future things and give warnings. She tells you the initial of your future companion, whether true or false. Tells you what business you are best adapted to and all about absent friends, whether living or dead. Tells you what planet you were born under, what part of the country is luckiest for you. This phenomenally gifted lady is now located in your town and can be consulted on all affairs of life. She also tells the color of eyes and hair of your future wife or husband. Also gives initials of names. She also answers any and all questions. Call and consult this gifted lady at once.

LOOK, READ!

A true palmist is born. I am different from all others, because I not only read your life like a book, but also help you out of your troubles. For instance, what good would it do you to be told you had a rival or enemy in your path unless you were told how to over-come them, or in case you wanted to win the love of a certain one would you be satisfied to be told it. Or would you rather know how you can win your desire? In fact, it does no good simply to be told of your troubles. I am able to point out the path to success an dhappiness and tell you how to overcome all your troubles and difficulties. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Pay this lady a visit today, for tomorrow may be too late.

AMUSEMENTS

Psychological Reason For Movie Stars Changing Names

HOLLYWOOD, June 24.—A rose does not smell as sweet by a different name—despite distinguished authority to the contrary. There is a great deal in a name, by virtue of certain psychological factors.

Motion picture people long since discovered that.

And for some, at least, the change of name, a common practice on screen and stage, has undoubtedly spelled the difference between obscurity and fame.

Mary Pickford was once Gladys Smith.

Rudy Valentino was born Guglielmi.

The name Gish was brevetted upon the fair Lillian by Griffith.

Many have renamed themselves. Others have had new designations forced upon them. In the former case, it is usually a wish fulfillment—the wish to seem what the name implies to themselves and presumably to others. If the latter case, a long one, or one difficult to pronounce has usually been replaced with a simpler and more euphonious, or to distinguish one player from another of like name.

David Wark Griffith altered the name of nearly every one of his proteges

He did that for three reasons: The psychological effect upon players, the psychological effect upon audiences, and the practical need of a short, preferably one syllable names for convenience of billing and electric lighting.

For associational appeal to audiences he preferred names that would connote love, tenderness, gentleness, pathos, wistfulness in the girls he trained; names suggesting grace, beauty, heart appeal.

Hollywood swarms with such retitled folk. Here are a few more that come to mind:

Colleen Moore was christened Kathleen Morrison.

Bessie Love was born Juanita Horton.

Marjorie Daw was Marjorie House.

Madge Bellamy's family name is Philpott.

Viola Dana and Shirley Mason discarded Flugrath

Mary Miles Minter is really Julia Riley.

Lila Lee was born Appel.

Antonio Moreno was christened Monteagudo.

Ramon Novarro's name is Samaniegos.

Selman Pittack has become Wanda Howley.

Griffith used to tell his young players, "Remember that you may some day become a star, and then you'll want a name that will fit easily into lights."

A rose might small as sweet if you called it a chrystathemum, but it wouldn't get near the play in movie billboards or newspaper heads.

ADVERTISING BIG JULY FOURTH HERE

Booster Trips Made to Nearby Towns, Program of Ex-Service Men's Show Printed.

The advertising campaign for the big Fourth of July celebration is now well under way. The event is being proclaimed in large type in a number of weekly newspapers having circulation in this and nearby counties.

The committees in charge of the ex-service men's part of the celebration are planning booster trips to nearby towns. They will visit one place each evening from now until the holiday, taking music along with them and "talking up" the coming fete at every opportunity.

Cards containing a detailed program of the ex-service men's show have been printed and are ready for distribution locally and on these trips. Beginning with Assembly at 9 o'clock on the morning of the Fourth, the following features will follow: Guard House, Military Police, Infirmary, Salvation Army Hut, Mess, Court Martial, Baseball, Prize Fight and Retreat. The program will conclude with the last mentioned military formation which will take place at 6 o'clock.

The advertising committee chairman announced yesterday afternoon that $1,350 toward the $1,500 fund had been collected and that the committee is confident of collecting the remainder.

The boster committee will go to Stony Fork tonight and advertise the ex-service men's part of the Fourth of July program. The Rev. A. B. Reeves will be the speaker. The following itinerary has been arranged for the other nights: Thursday, June 26, at Tazewell, Arthur Rhorer, speaker; Friday, Pineville, T. R. Hill, speaker; Tuesday, July 1, Cumberland Gap, W. I. Jones, speaker; Wednesday, July 2, Barbourville, Attorney Wilson, speaker.

Bandstand for 4th of July Is Erected

A permanent bandstand for the Fourth of July celebration has been erected on the corner in front of the National Bank today. It is so constructed that it may be taken apart in very little time and reassembled for any future use.

It will be used on the holiday by the twenty-piece McFollette band which will be here all that day. A temporary bandstand has been placed on the other corner for the orchestra which will be here on the Fourth.

German Approval of Growing Morality Here

Associated Press.

BERLIN, June 25.—Alice Solomon, for many years identified with social work in Germany, believes that the American people have solved the problems of alcohol and dancing in a way that will make for a better generation.

Writing of her recent experiences in America, Miss Solomon expresses the belief that, while in the big cities there are evasions of the prohibition laws, yet, on the whole, the country is growing "dry" and that the number of opponents of prohibition is constantly decreasing.

As for dancing, it is Miss Solomon's belief that the social workers have been able to provide such opportunities for young people to amuse themselves at dancing that the objectionable dance halls are being less and less frequented

Plans Completed For Citizens' Army Camp

THE NOSE WILL HAVE IT AS WOMEN MEET TO HELP NAME CANDIDATE

DEMONSTRATES HOW A LADY DELEGATE ELIMINATES ALL PARTY LINES IN THE FULLY EQUIPPED BEAUTY SALON AT MADISON SQUARE GARDEN.

By Hortense Saunders

NEW YORK, June 24.—The noes will have it.

Here is one convention tip on which you can stake your last dollar regardless of how McAdoo and Smith settle their little difficulties and the final disposition of the favorite sons and dark horses.

Here is photographic evidence that the Seventeenth Amendment is working and that men have recognized the political equality of women and have acknowledged her right to the convention hall as well as the home.

Here is man's most gallant and unconscious tribute to women.

Here is a section of the beauty station that has blossomed like a chintz flower-plot in one corner of old Madison Square Garden where the Democratic convention holds forth.

With the naked eye you can see but five of the 24 mirrors that bisect the room in a double row, chorus-girl style so that the 450 women delegates in attendance need not stand in line and wait for a mirror, as the men will have to do, but may sit down and do a thorough job of repairs while they are at it.

And besides the double row of mirrors are many full sized models and smaller ones hanging on the walls offering standing accommodations for a full or part portion!

A black-gowned, white-aproned maid stands at attention ready to supply face powder in any shade from the bluish, pink to the Parisian tangerine or King Tut tan, and rouge of every known blend.

She also will have hairpins for the long-haired delegates and electric curling irons and combs for the short-haired sisters.

All party lines must disappear, and women must stand firm on the beauty bloc.

Besides the mirrors and the ammunition, there are comfortable chairs and shaded lamps, a chaise lounge and all the appurtenances of ease a woman might find, or wish she could find, in her own home.

And if women at the Democratic convention want to smoke a cigaret, they may do so, in a very elaborately furnished smoking room on the first floor where motion pictures will be shown and tea served.

Old Madison Square Garden, consecrated of late years to prize fights, and circuses, has never been so doiled up before. And it's all for the ladies.

PLAN MEMORIAL TO BISHOP TUTTLE

Head of Episcopal Church for More Than 20 Years to Be Honored.

Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 25.—A national memorial to the late Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, Episcopal bishop of Missouri for almost 40 years and presiding bishop of the Episcopal church of the United States for more than 20 years, is to be erected in St. Louis in connection with Christ Church Cathedral, Bishop Tuttle's church for many years.

The Bishop Tuttle Memorial building will replace the old parish house which has proved inadequate for the large program of church and community work of the cathedral.

The memorial wil not be limited to community and diocesian service. As the old parish house was used for various national conferences of the church, so will the new building with its large auditorium, be offered to the National Council for conventions and conferences when desired.

The memorial wil be connected with the first Episcopal church established west of the Mississippi River, and in a parish which is more than 100 years old, in the heart of St. Louis. It will also contain conference rooms, a large gymnasium, swimming pool, library, and a radio station for broadcasting.

Bishop Tuttle, although a man of wide learning, and one upon whom many honors had been bestowed was a man of great simplicity, beloved by all those with whom he was associated.

A fine response to a "big gifts campaign" has come from the west, especially from Montana and nearby states, where, at the age of 30, Bishop Tuttle was consecrated in 1867 the first Missionary Bishop of the Episcopal church of Montana and for 20 years was a strong and loved force of law and order in those rough days.

As part of the training for health given in the schools of Latvia, a new law requires instruction on the dangers of alcohol.

KENTUCKY DAIRY PRODUCTS LEAD

Southerners Will Attend National Association Meeting In Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 25.—Opportunity swings high for Kentucky in dairying development. The eyes of American dairydom are turned upon the southern states and the favorable opportunities there for promiting dairying on a large scale, and the advantages offered in Kentucky are beginning to stand to the front.

Attention is widely drawn to Kentucky and the south as officials of the National Dairy association take note of the wide interest southerners are taking in the National Dairy exposition of be held in Milwaukee early this fall.

Large delegations of southerners either are on the way or are making preparations for tours of leading dairying exposition centers in the middle west in connection with the dairy exposition to be held September 27 to October 4th. The interest of the south in the exposition is due largely to the fact that it will be held in what is known as "America's Dairy Capital," Wisconsin having once been afflicted with virtually the same sort of crop pest that has made cotton unprofitable before the Badger state turned to the dairy cow and became one of the leaders in general prosperity.

The south's growth in dairy production is told in figures recently compiled showing that more than 65,000,000 pounds of creamery butter was produced in the southeast, where advancement has been particularly rapid in the last two years. Kentucky leads the southern states in creamery production, making 13,000,000 pounds of the product in 1923, and the outlook is very bright for a much greater output this year.

"The land of dairy destiny" is the way dairying experts of this section who have studied the situation regard the southern states. The dairy exposition is the industry's annual great classic, drawing many thousands from every section each year.

GROCERY JOBBING BUSINESS BETTER

Net Profit for Trade as Whole One Per Cent. Better Than 1924, Report Shows.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 23.—A slight improvement in the wholesale grocery business for 1923 is shown in the annual bulletin for this trade just published by the Harvard Bureau of Business Research. Net profit for the trade as a whole was 0.7 per cent in 1923 as opposed to 0.6 per cent in 1922. The results also show a slight increase in stock-turn from 5.7 a year in 1922 to 5.9 times in 1923.

A new feature of the bulletin this year is a tabulation of costs according to size of cities. This table shows that firms located in cities of 50,000 population and less made a net profit of 0.3 per cent of sales while firms in cities of from 100,000 to 400,000 people made a profit of only 0.3 per cent. The largest stock-turn was found in cities of 400,000 and over.

The Bulletin also contains a map showing distribution of firms cooperating with the Bureau by furnishing their figures for tabulation. These cooperators are located throughout the entire country. Over 500 wholesale grocery firms took advantage of the Bureau's service and sent in their figures this year.

Another new feature is a tabulation of firms with a new profit higher than the average. This group shows a profit of 1.0 per cent of sales and a stock-turn of 6.3 times a year. The higher stock-turn and lower total expenses are apparently responsible for the greater profit of these firms.

This report which represents the eighth annual study of the cost of doing business in the wholesale grocery trade, indicates that the tendency in 1923 was toward augmented sales volume, narrow gross margin, and substantially unchanged net profit ratio maintained principally by the achievement of economies in operating expenses and slight increases in stock-turn.

82 YEARS OLD AND AS GOOD AS A YOUNGSTER

"7 or 8 years ago I was a very sick man. Doctors said catarrh trouble of stomach and bowels, affecting the liver and heart. For more than a year I wanted to die, but could not. Upon the advice of a friend I tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and although 82 years old I now feel as good as a youngster." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestional ailments, including appendicitis. Don't Shake The World's Business Confidence In Uncle Sam

Francs, Marks, Rupees even Pounds Sterling are having their ups and downs, to the great financial detriment of the Old World. Why is Uncle Sam's dollar—for the first time in history—the best coin on the face of the Earth?

Because of confidence in American business men and business methods—confidence in the fundamental soundness of American institutions; from the great railroad systems (the Nation's second largest industry) on down to the smallest factory, mill or workshop.

Coincident with this confidence, and to a certain extent because of it, this country is enjoying an era of unquestioned prosperity—1924 promising another year of the biggest business in our history.

The railroads must share in this prosperity; because railroads are so largely responsible for good times. But the railroads cannot share in, or continue to contribute to, good business unless they are treated fairly in the matter of regulatory laws; and unless they have the friendly co-operation of the public, to which they are entitled.

The American railroads are valued at over twenty billion dollars; they employ two million people; they do a business of over seven billion dollars a year. Therefore, their position in our economic scheme is substantial, and their well-being is vital to all of us.

YOU want to prosper. The Louisville & Nashville Railroad wants to help you prosper. Let's get together and stay together, for all-'round prosperity, brought about through confidence.

THE OLD RELIABLE

BIG SAVING IN INTEREST MADE THIS MONTH

$22,000,000.00 Saved In Annual Interest Charges.

MEANS LOWER TAX

Saving Affected In Treasury Saving Certificates Which Bear Low Interest—Many Already Retired.

Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The June fiscal operations of the treasury, while ranking among the smallest of the post war financial issues, will have a wider permanent effect in the way of cuts in fixed expenditures of the government than most of the quarterly operations in the last five years. Treasury experts have calculated that a saving of approximately $22,000,000 in annual interest charges will result from the public debt situation accomplished in June.

About $150,000,000 in new securities have gone on the market from the treasury this month, but proceeds from these with balances on hand and payments in the second tax installment will retire something like $445,000,000 in treasury notes and tax certificates which matured June 15. The tax certificates bore four per cent and the treasury notes, which were issued in 1921, carried 5 3-4 per cent interest. The new certificates pay only 2 3-4 per cent interest, the lowest rate of any government security since the issue of Panama Canal bonds. At the same time the British government made a payment of $69,000,000, which, under the law, must be used to retire the American war-time debt. That payment therefore will cut off $69,000,000 of liberty bonds bearing an average of almost four per cent interest.

While the cut in the total debt brought about by this one operation appears as a drop in the bucket when considered alongside the ntaional debt of more than $21,000,000,000, treasury officials point with satisfaction to the amount of interest that would have to be paid, and that means taxes to be raised, provided there was no reduction in the debt. The treasury has issued only $150,000,000 in new securities while it has retired and destroyed a total of $321,000,000 in outstanding debt.

"It is this steady biting off of the great national debt that means lower taxes in the future," a treasury official said. He added that in the last three years the treasury has een able on every occasion to retire more securities than it has issued in each fiscal operation, and the great debt, 90 per cent of which resulted directly from world war expenditures, is gradually being whittled down.

Chairman Pro-Tem of Garden Gathering is Brilliant Orator

Sketch, by staff artist, of Senator Pat Harrison making his keynote speech to the Democratic Convention.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Six years of active service on the oratorical firing line in the Senate, preceded by four terms of political schooling in the House of Representatives, developed in Pat Harrison a brilliance of forensic expression that led to his selection as temporary chairman of the Democratic National Convention.

Next to the youngest member of the Senate, a six-footer with a perpetual twinkle in his eye and a booming voice that carries to the fringes of a crowd, he has a knack of putting into his delivery and choice of words both a sting and a smile.

His name is really Byron Patton Harrison, and so he was referred to in the congressional directory when he was serving his first term as a members of the House from the sixth Mississippi district. But now, as a senator, he is listed as Pat.

The senator is of the same Virginia stock as two former Presidents of the United States, William Henry and Benjamin Harrison. More than 100 years ago his grandfather, migrating from the old dominion, settled near Crystal Springs, Mississippi, where Pat Harrison was born in August, 1881. His father, Robert Harrison, served in the Confederate army, receiving wounds from which he never fully recovered.

The Harrison family suffered reverses as a result of the Civil War, and at nine years of age Pat sold newspapers. But he kept to his school books, and finally worked his way through Louisiana State University by serving as a waiter in a student boarding house.

After graduation, he studied law while teaching in a Mississippi country school. At 23 years of age he was elected district attorney, serving in that capacity until 1910 when he was elected to Congress.

In 1918 Pat Harrison, who was making a name for himself in the House, entered a three cornered fight for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Mississippi, and received a majority over the combined vote cast for Senator Vardaman, who was a candidate for re-election, and Governor Noel, who also was in the race.

Vardaman had incurred the ill will of President Wilson. Harrison championed the President's cause, and on entering the Senate proved one of Woodrow Wilson's staunchest defenders during the embittered days after the war. Of late, he has assumed the role of one of the most caustic critics of the Republican administration.

Senator Harrison's home is in Gulfport, Mississippi. He is married, has three children, cares little for Washington society, plays a fair game of golf, likes to slip away fro mthe Senate once in a while to watch a ball game, and usually relaxes in the evening by going to the movies.

URGES BUYING OF COAL IN SUMMER

Secretary of Retail Dealers Says Would Save Money and Help Miners.

Associated Press.

ST LOUIS, June 24.—Now is the time for householders to lay in their coal supply for next winter if they want to save money. E. J. Wallace, of St. Louis, secretary of the Mid-west Retail Coal Dealers' Association, declared at the opening of the organization's annual convention.

Coal now selling at $5 a ton, he said, might be expected to show an increase of 50 cents to $1 a ton by October, the increases usually beginning in July or August. Mr. Wallace explained this meant a profit of approximately 25 per cent to the present purchaser.

"Moreover," he said, "the coal that is bought now is better prepared and is cleaner, because the mines are working only one and two days a week. Again, by working the mines in the summer months and trying to distribute the demand for coal as evenly as possible throughout the year will certainly bring down the cost of mining coal and provide regular work for thousands of miners who have families depending on them, who now have a hard time to exist in the summer months."

GLIDER IS BUILT OF WIRE AND TIN

German Makes Flight of More Than Eight Hours With Machine of Junk.

By Associated Press.

KOENIGSBERG, Germany, June 24.—Old broomsticks, baling wire and scraps of tin salved from milk and bully beef cans were chiefly used in constructing the glider in which Ferdinand Schulz in an experimental flight remained in the air 8 hours 42 minutes and 8 seconds and thereby established a world's record for heavier than air machines without motors.

Shulz's seat was made of the lid of a box from America which bore a Chicago label. The snil plane was constructed by Schulz during odd moments when he was not busy teaching a school class [illegible] East Prussia, which is his home. The flight took place at Rossitten.

Schulz appeared last year with a glider made of hop poles and scrap tin, but his machine was rejected by the technical committee and he was not allowed to compete in the meet on the theory that it was unsafe.

Schulz says he could have remained in the air much longer had he made proper preparations for an extended flight. He had neglected to take along gloves, and was in his shirt sleeves; toward afternoon he felt the cold keenly. Finally, he says, he became so hungry that he decided to land and as he did not have a watch with him, he was most surprised when informed that he had established a record.

GRAND CIRCUIT TO HAVE MANY RACES

Trotters Ready to "Step Out" in Cleveland Grand Circuit Race—Purse of $40,000.00.

Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, June 24.—The opening meeting of the Grand Circuit, harness horse racing season, at North Randall track June 30-July 4; with July 5 reserved for postponements, offers a card of 20 races. Fourteen are class races and six stakes, for purses ranging in value from $1,200 to $5,000 with a total of more than $40,000.

Indications are that the large number of entries in many events will necessitate splitting the field, thereby lengthening the program to about two dozen events.

The late closing events will have a uniform purse value of $1,200, with the exception of the free-for-all pace, which will be worth $2,500.

Every trotter and pacer of note already has been named to start in the stake event, and practically every good class horse in the country will be named in the late closing or class events.

Hundreds of horses are already at the track in training.

There will be a feature event each day. The "Edwards" for 2:08 pacers, purse $5,000, will be Monday's feature; Tuesday the "Ohio" for 2:08 trotters; Wednesday, the "trotting sweepstakes" for 2:03 trotters; Thursday, the three-year-old pacers wil perform and the "Tavern Steak" for 2:12 trotters for a purse of $..5,000. Friday's feature will be the free-for-all pace for $2,500.

LOS ANGELES IS MOST CONGESTED

About 310,000 Automobiles Enter the Crowded Districts Each Day.

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, June 24.—Statistics made public by the Los Angeles Traffic Commission reveal that Los Angeles streets are the most congested in the United States.

In making the comparisons, traffic at each intersection of the principal streets outside of the downtown area proper was recorded.

Some of the salient points which the check disclosed were:

Los Angeles county, with 425,572 automobiles (tourists' machines not included) represents 3½ per cent of the total automobile registration of the country.

Approximately 310,000 cars enter the congested district every day. This is said to be more than the total number of automobiles registered in New York City. Motor traffic at Adams and Figueroa streets is declared the heaviest in the United States. During eleven and a half hours of the day of the check 69,797 cars traversed both streets of the intersection. The total registration of Los Angeles county is larger by 120,000 than that of New York.

The check shows that there are three intersections in Los Angeles that have a daily movement of over 45,000 machines; six intersections with between 40,000 and 45,000; nine intersections with between 35,000 and 40,000, and 23 more with a movement of 30,000 to 35,000. The figures show the traffic movement for only one street of each intersection, that is, north and south traffic or east and west traffic.

Unveiling Statue of Buffalo Bill at Cody, Wyoming

By Associated Press.

CODY, Wyo., June 24.—A compilation of incidents and anecdotes relating to the life of Colonel William F. (Buffalo Bill) Cody, for whom this town was named, is to be undertaken in connection with the unveiling of a statue to the famous Indian fighter on July 4 here. The work is to be done under the direction of Mayor R. C. Trueblood.

The plans includes the collection of signatures of Buffalo Bill's friends into a huge tome to be known as "the register of Colonel W. F. Cody's friends." Additional volumes will contain incidents of his life. The register of friends is expected to contain the names of all high officials of the United States government, as well as those of several ruling monarchs of Europe, with several of whom Colonel Cody was intimately associated. Mayor Trueblood expresses the belief that Colonel Cody had more friends than any man living in his time. The mayor has issued an appeal to all acquaintances of the famous frontiersman to send in data for the memorial library.

The statue will show Colonel Cody astride a rampant horse. It will be reared near the entrance of the city. The Cody archives are expected to furnish to posterity intimate glimpses of life in the early west.

Kentucky Cities Have Made Record in Highway Building

LEXINGTON, June 25.—The Kentuckians who live in that section of the state between Cincinnati, Ohio, and Cumberland Gap, Tenn., have set a record for cooperation in road building that is without an equal in any state in the union. Charles O'Connor, supervising engineer of the Dixie Route A and of the Asheville-Western North Carolina Motor club, declared.

The record was made conclusive by the action of the farmers, bankers and business men of Cynthiana and Harrison county and Falmouth and Pendleton county in the past week.

Every town and county from the Ohio river at Cincinnati southward to the Tennessee line at Cumberland Gap is now working together in order that there will be a good, surfaced, all-weather highway through Kentucky by September 15 this year. During the present illness of Mr. Buckner, who far the past year has been working with Mr. O'Connor in getting the road through Tennessee, Kentucky and Georgia open, F. O. Clark, dean of the vocational department of Berea College, is to aid in carrying out the work.

Now that every county in Kentucky is doing its part in this big co-operative project, Mr. O'Connor, accompanied by Mr. Clark, will visit Chicago, Indianapolis, Dayton, and other northern cities to interest them in completing the financing of the through road. Mr. O'Connor declared that he di duot feel justified in asking northern cities to help finance the big highway until he was in a position to show them conclusive evidence that every Kentucky town and county was doing all that it could be expected to do.

The Kentucky towns now helping to finance the road are: Covington, Newport, Butler, Falmouth, Cynthiana, Paris, Lexington, Georgetown, Winchester, Richmond, Berea, Round Stone, Mt. Vernon, Livingstone, East Bernstadt; London, Corbin, Woodbine, Wilton, Dishman Springs, Barbourville, Flat Lick, Pineville, Middlesboro.

"Mr. Buckner and I have been asked many times by Kentuckians to explain why we should expect Chicago, Indianapolis, Detroit and other middle western northern cities to aid financially in building this road," said Mr. O'Connor, "and so I should like to offer this explanation:

"This road will be the best conditioned road to Florida by the middle of September with the single exception perhaps, of the main highways south from Washington. The distance from Cincinnati to Macon, Ga., over Dixie Route A will be, by September 15, 682 miles, whereas the distance from Cincinnati to Washington is about 615 miles. Therefore by the time the Hamilton county, Ohio, man motoring to Florida via the eastern route gets to Washington, his neighbor going via Dixie Route A will be in Macon, Ga., only about eight hours by road from the Florida line, and by the time the Chicago man gets to Washington over the eastern route to Florida his neighbor going over our highway will be in Florida.

"The motorist driving from Chicago, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, etc., will save at least three days going south and three days coming back north. He will save in actual cost at least $120.

Trial Course Solves Recreation Problem

By Associated Press.

LONDON, June 24.—The mystery of the disappearance from offices in the City and West End of managers and heads of departments for an hour or so in the morning or afternoon has been cleared up by a visit to Lincolns Inn Fields.

Here on the green, smooth lawns an 18-hole putting golf course has been laid out, and would-be golfers can try their hand at a cost of three pence a round, which includes putters and balls.

The London County Council was responsible for laying out the putting course. In the lunch hour the greens ar ecovered with young men and girl clerks, and after office hours there is also a rush of players.

Kentucky Flag Presented Federal Postal Dept.

Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—With 40 state standards in its possesion, presented by organizations and individuals and prospects of receiving soon those of the remaining states, the Post Office department boasts the most complete collection of official state flags in the country. The flags of Ohio, Utah, Montana and Kentucky recently were presented and accepted ceremoniously by Postmaster General New.

The only states not now represented in the collection are Arkansas, Kansas, Mississippi, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming. Inquiries concerning presentation of a flag have been received from all but Nevada and New Mexico. Hawaii and Porto Rico flags are included in the 40 now preserved by the department, but there is none from the District of Columbia, which has no official flag; Alaska, Guam, Samoa or the Virgin Islands.

How to Make Your Advertisements Pay

Few merchants really have the proper appreciation of what advertising means to them. A writer in an exchange aptly puts it in this way:

If a man spoke to his wife only once a month or every two months, she wouldn't even recognize his voice, says an exchange. Yet some business men advertise once a month or every two months and then wonder why they don't get more business. Advertise every week. Remember "the used key is always bright." The store that tells the public what it is doing every day is the store that gets there in the end.

Germans Like Hockey

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, June 24.—Hockey and cricket, played by few in Germany before the war, are gaining in popularity, but tennis continues the game most in vogue. While the number of golf players has greatly increased in the last few years, the spread of this game is hampered by the lack of grounds for links. Berlin, for instance, has only two courses.

DEMOCRATS PLEASED WITH WALSH SPEECH

"It has no remedy, it offers no relief from the paralysis that afflicts agriculture, threatening every form of industry," the chairman said "Moreover it finds itself plagued with representatives in both houses of Congress, holding views so radically antagonistic to those of the dominant faction in the party as to preclude the possibility of uniting on any program of legislation"

Efforts of the dominant faction to shake off the insurgent members as ludicrous as it will prove futile,' the speaker continued, adding that they could not be shaken off because they have the endorsement of their people

Senator Walsh said he knew how eager the managers of the campaign for the re-election of President Coolidge were "to switch the issues from honest government, the repeal of the new tariff of abominations, relief for agriculture, and related reforms, to the League of Nations" He added that it was not so necessary that America immediately join the League a that it abandon foolish antagonism to any world movement, merely because it was in some way associated with the League

"The honor of our country," he declared, "the prosperity of our people, demand that we return to the Ideals of Woodrow Wilson, that we resume the place he won for us—the moral leadership of the world"
